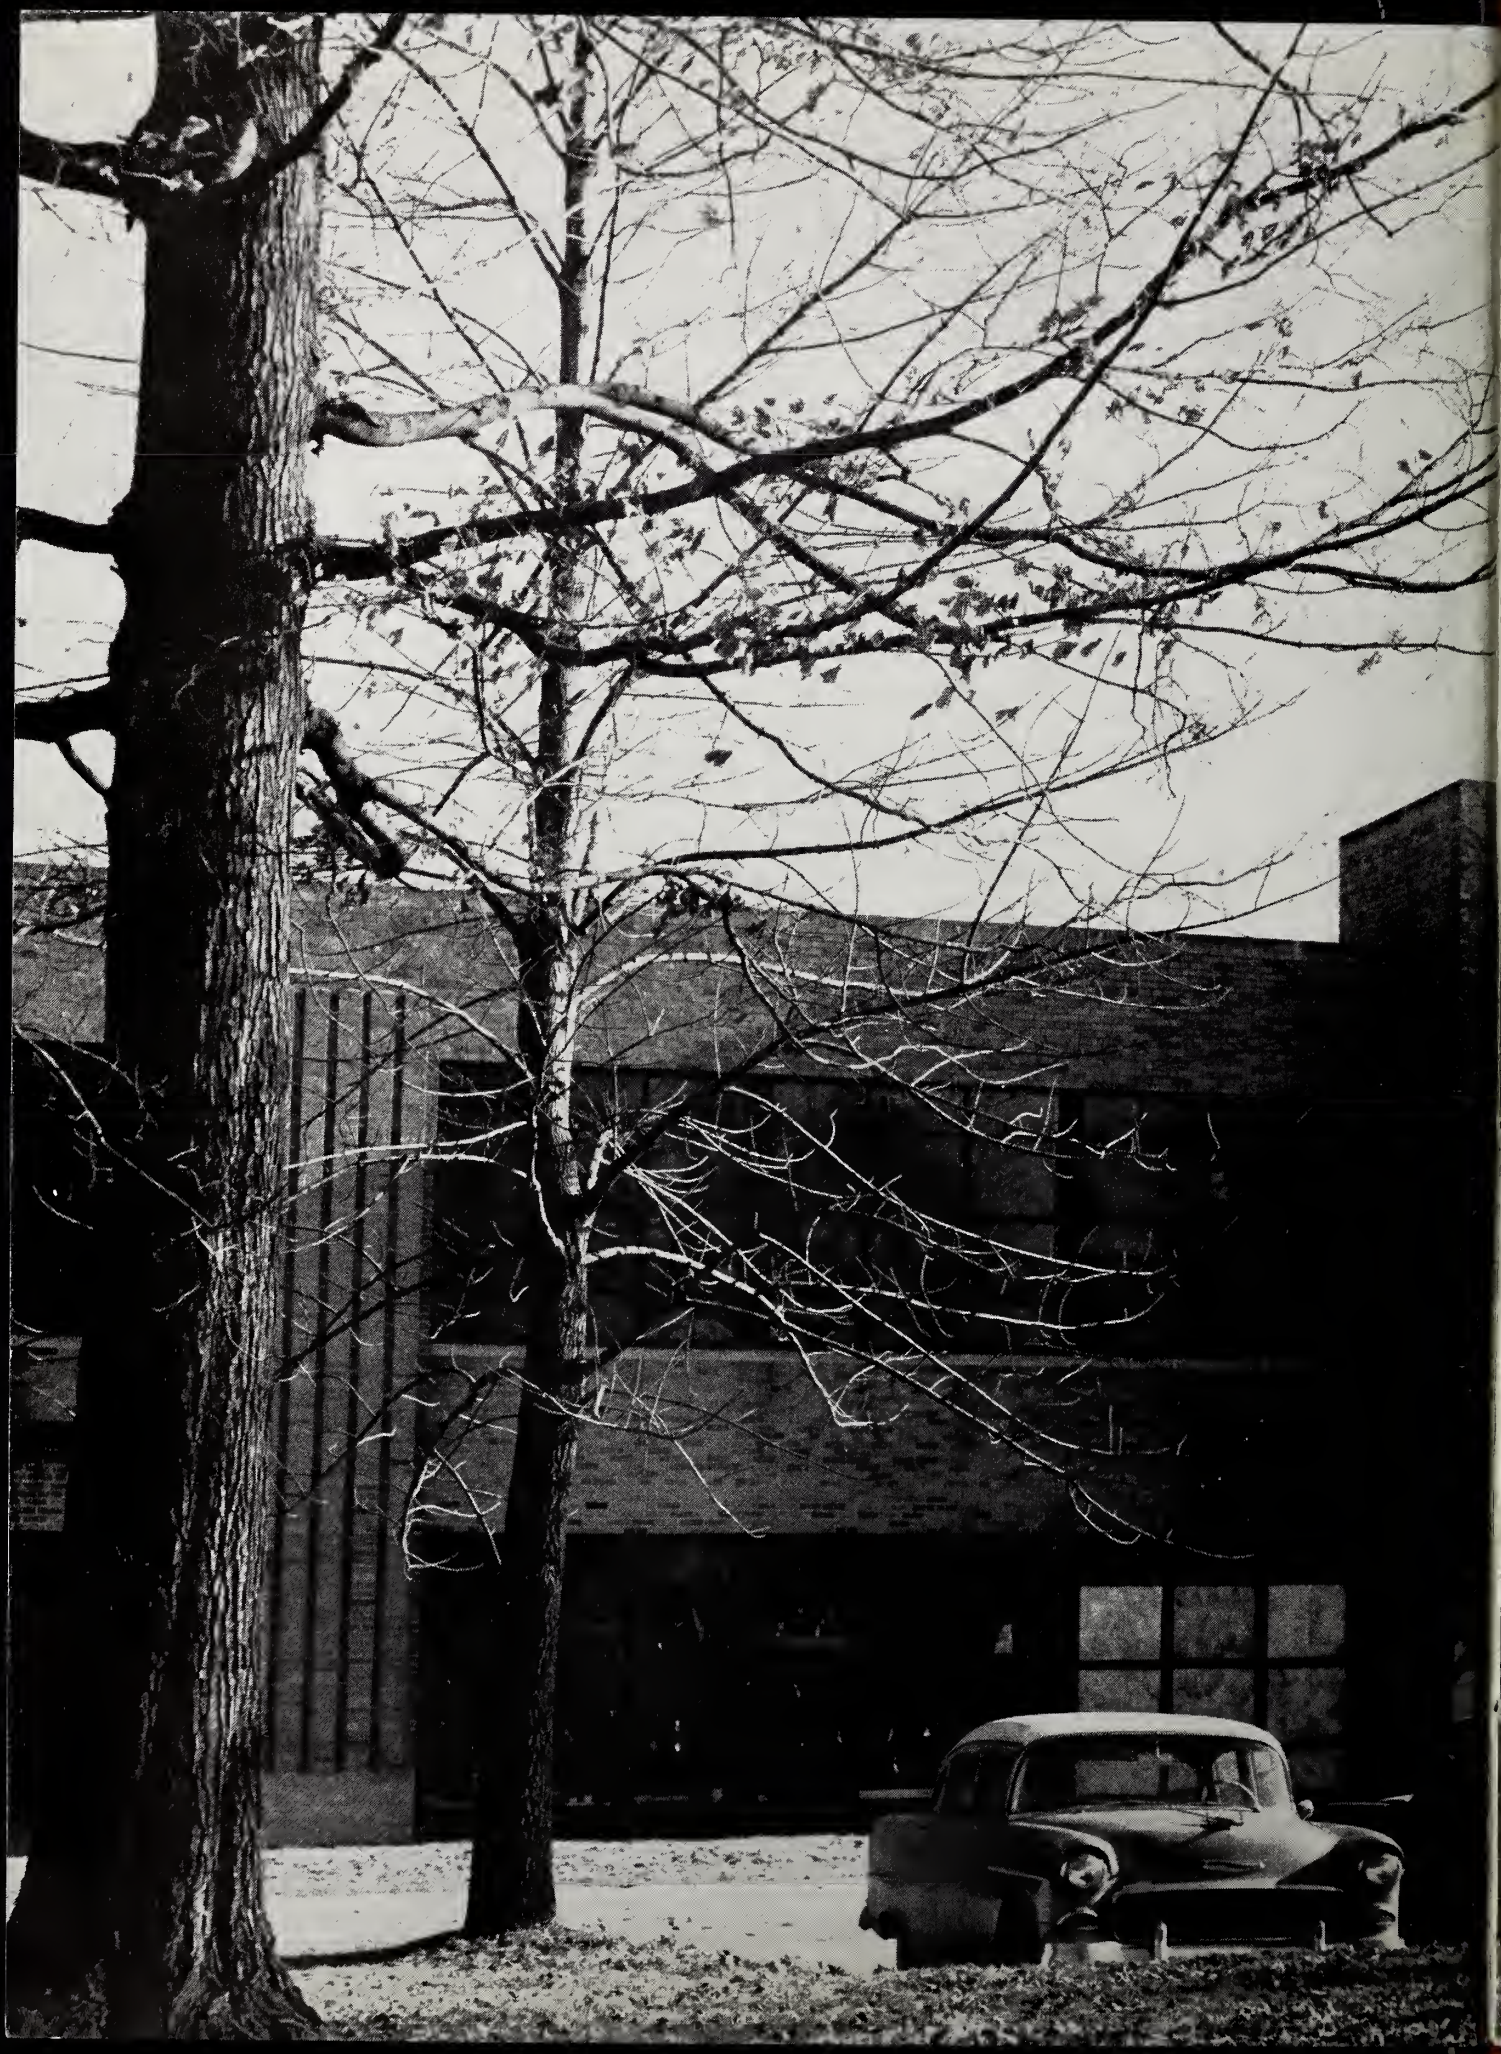
WARREN CENTRAL H. S. MEDIA CENTER



This is 1958 . . .

This is 1958 as we, the people of Warren Central, lived it.

Here are the honors we won and the social events of which we were a part. Familiar phases of school life that we shared are a part of our year; the 423 yards of corridor we trudged, the 420 steps we mounted and the 41 classrooms we entered. These 34 clubs of which we were members, and our 10 sports' teams have their places in 1958; but the chore of our year is the people of Warren.

This, then, is the 1958 Warren Central story — the people, the conversations, the planning, the fun, the learning and the events — in pictures and in print.

1958 was the year . . .
1108 hurrin' Warrenites

The corner of Hollywood and Vine or the scramble of Times Square was no more maddening than the jam of Room 16 and the Main Hall. Never a day passed that students didn't crowd this area from six directions as they passed to and from classes.

Lines of demanding students sometimes seem endless to Mrs. Erma McClarren, bookstore manager. Selling supplies from pencils to text books, Mrs. McClarren handled between $35 and $75 a day.

wondered at Sputnik, donned 'Ivy' styles

Approximately 1300 Warrenites each day filed through this attractive lunch line to be served a balanced plate lunch. Running on a cafeteria set-up, Warren's lunch program offered students a wide variety of appetizing foods. Besides a 30 cent lunch, the cafeteria sold tempting gooey desserts to satisfy the sweet tooth.

Blazers, pizza and Presley seemed to be among the conversational highlights of 1958. Crew-neck sweaters, the stroll and American Bandstand topped our never-ending list of fads. To all this, Warren Central was no exception. We danced the same dances, and wore the same clothes as every other American teenager of 1958.

1958 was the year . . . dancers strolled,

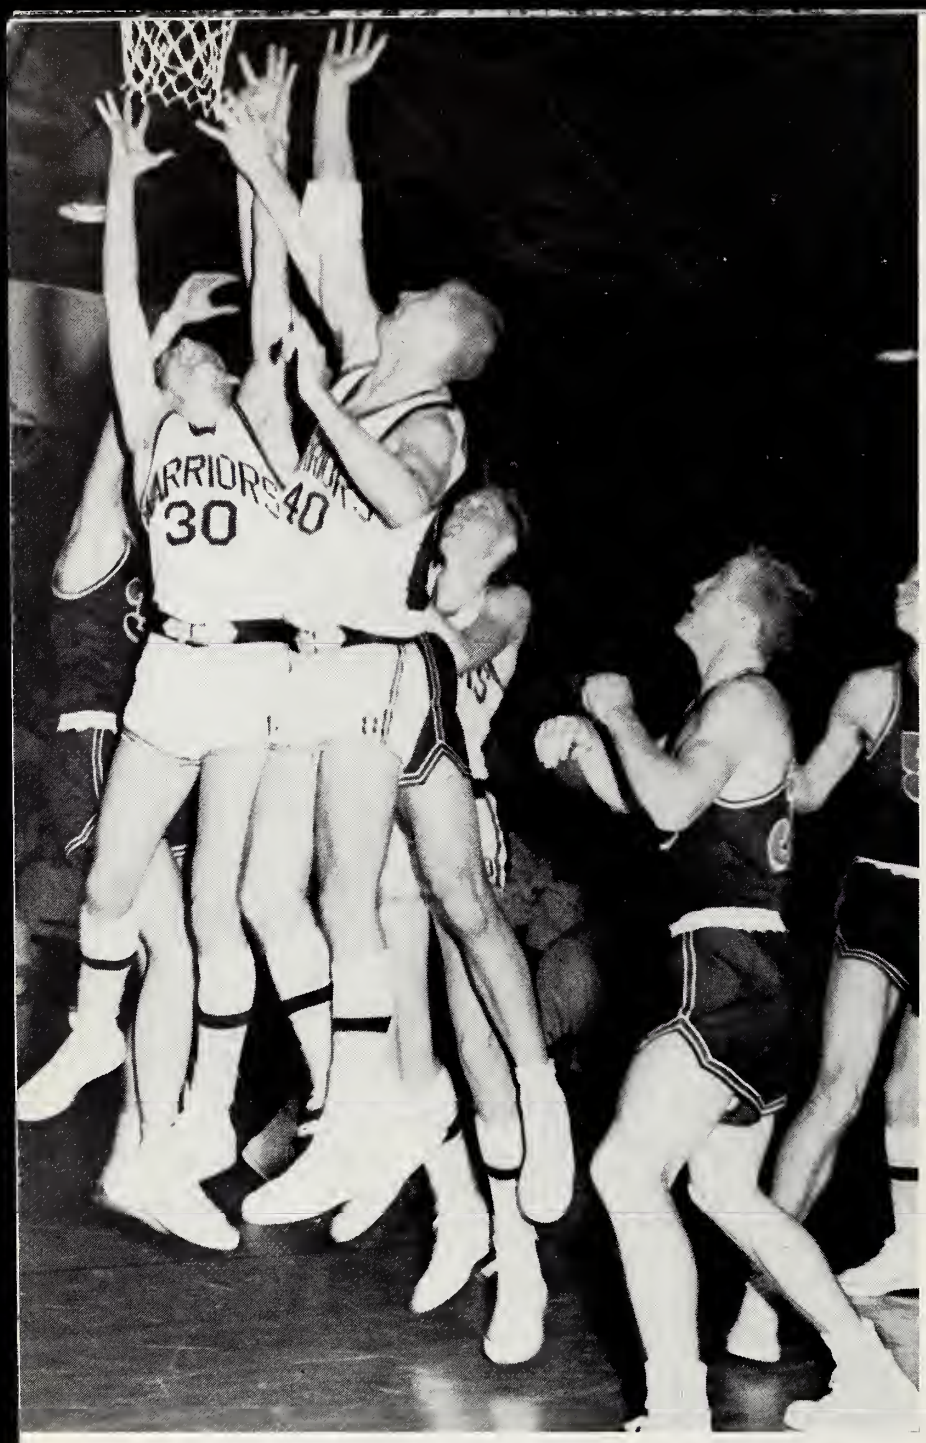
There was always a crowd in the Warren gym on the night of a sock hop. This year 14 sock hops were sponsored after football and basketball games. Jeff Jacobs, junior, proved to be an excellent disc jockey. This year new dance sensations, the stroll and cha-clypso, contended for first place with the jitterbug and the waltz.

Everyone looks forward to the annual Christmas Dance, now traditionally called "Mistletoe Magic." This year the dance was sponsored by the National Beta, the Warrenettes, Alpha Hi-Y, and Beta Hi-Y. Candidates for king and queen were nominated in the Senior government classes. They were crowned by Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus.

students relished plans for new 12 room wing

Austin E. Walker, superintendent of the Warren Metropolitan schools, seems to be very pleased with the plans of the new school wing. The new addition, which is to be completed by next fall, has ten rooms, a new office and teachers' room. One of the main features will be a new cafeteria which will accommodate approximately 550 people.

The Visual Aids Department of Warren Central under the direction of Perle R. Fisher has been called the nerve center of the Warren Township schools. Kenny Schaffer and Beverly Perdue are filing rolls of film in the $50,000 film library. All of the schools in Warren Township call in their orders and the assistants take them down.



In a combined effort to defeat the opposers during a battle for possession of the ball, Warren's top three rebounders, Don Prickett, Bob Chadwell, and Bill Jacobs, once again reign victorious.

Do you lean to the left when you should be to the right? Do you stand up when you should sit and fight! fight! fight! Then you don't belong to the pep block. A hard working group of 169 members the block works for coordination, and volume with the direction of reserve and varsity cheerleaders.

1958 was the year . . .

Boosters cheered-cheered,

Under the direction of Winfield Reed, chairman, the annual P.T.A. fish fry netted a profit of $637.41 last fall. Of this money, two $100 scholarships were given to seniors and $100 was given to the 1958 graduating class. Michael Crowe, junior and United Nations' representative, received $50 for his trip, and another $35 is being used to purchase needed equipment for the summer Teen Canteen. The remaining money goes to an all-student project.

"Big things come in little packages," is a proverb well exemplified by the rushing onslaught of the Warriors smallest backfield member, Joe Neligh, 13. Through such numerous maneuvers, Joe was the first Warrior to succeed in completing a six point play.

Warren's delegates to the Purdue Legislative Assembly were Lowry Sutherland, senator, and Marcia Jaggers, Fred Roesener, Bill Nicewanger and Jerry Fink, representatives.

ingenuity and leadership won recognition

Representing Warren in the Daughters of the American Revolution Good Citizen Contest was Marcia Jaggers. She was chosen for her leadership and character. On basis of test scores, Nancy Woodworth received the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award.

Learning the fundamentals of good reporting and yearbook production was the job of these four senior girls. Representatives to the Journalism Institute were seniors Nancy Updike, Nancy Reinhardt, Judy Overman and Sandy Mann.

Representing Warren Central for the year 1957-58 at the annual Girls' State Convention at Indiana University were Nancy Woodworth and Cynthia Pierce, seniors.

Each year Warren sends a number of boys to the annual assembly of Hoosier Boys' State at Indiana University. Last year's representatives were Alan Murray, John Herkless, Jerry Fink, Fred Roesener and Gary Ruble.

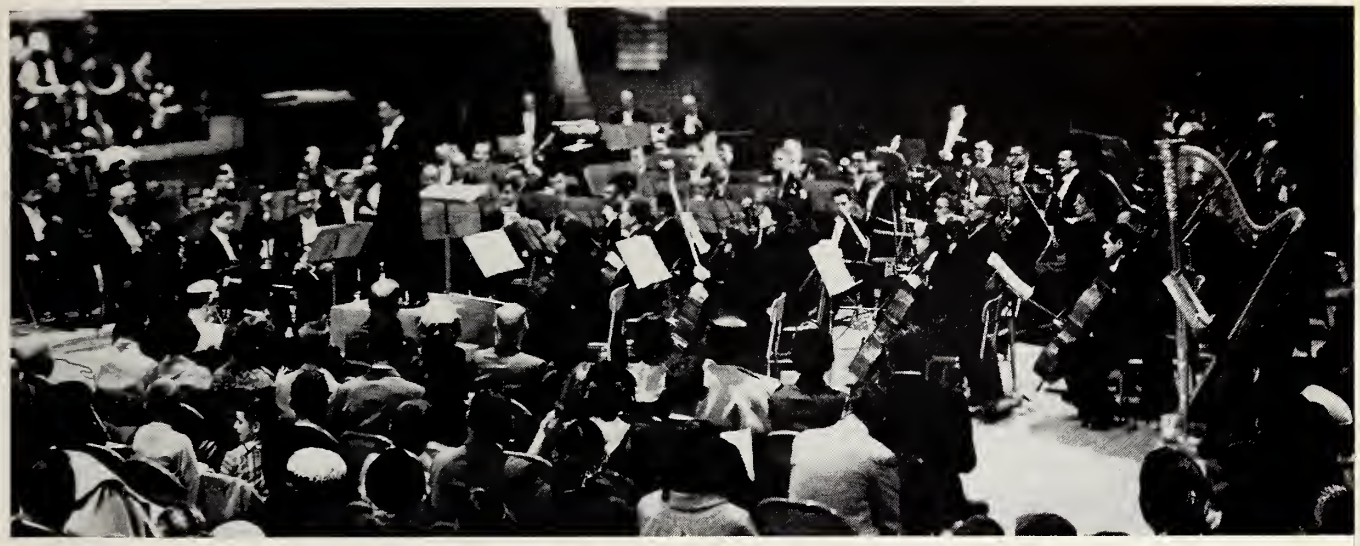
"Now here is a cute little number that will make any slave owner happy," calls the auctioneer as another slave sale gets under way. Toga-dressed slaves have been sold in this annual event, which is sponsored by the Latin Department.



On February 8 of this year, the people of Warren Central had the opportunity to hear a concert by the Indianapolis Symphony Orchestra. The Orchestra, under the direction of Izler Solomon, presented the concert as one of its free local high school performances to interest young people in classical music.

a bit of culture, the bitters of competition

The giving of achievement awards is the highlight of the 4-H year. Those who received these awards for 1958 are: Bruce Waterman, Dick Nye, Jon Means, Anne Berry, Barbara Wilson, Sara McClarren and Laura Martin.

The work, small talk, achievements,

This is a year of beginnings and endings.

To the seniors it gives a shiny new coin to spend in life . . . a high school diploma, their reward for a four-year-job well done. From them it takes the fun they had while learning to work together, the Friday night sock hops, the County Tourney and Sectionals.

For the underclassmen it brings their goal a step closer. It's the beginning of new and deeper friendships, greater responsibilities and more good times.

To the faculty and administration 1958 gives 169 new graduates in which to take pride and 939 underclassmen who need their help.

All of this is 1958.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Cuddy, Warren's principal and his wife, seemed to be enjoying the food prepared by the Home Economics department for the annual Valentine Tea.

Modeling is just one of the many opportunities given to Brenda Boyer and Cynthia McGahan, Warren's representatives to the Ayres' and Block's Fashion Boards.

Candlelight adds the finishing touch to the tea for Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rumford and Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Askren, Warren Township School Board members and their wives.

friendships . . . all this was 1958

The sound of clicking heels resound through the halls but once a year during the month of February. This day is set aside to honor our mothers with a program given by the music department and refreshments prepared by the home economics department. This year 650 mothers and daughters attended the Valentine Tea, sponsored by the National Beta and Warrenettes. This is the 26th consecutive year for this tradition.

Administration

The Warren Central administration consists of Edward Cuddy, principal, Obert Piety, dean of boys, and Mrs. Maude Siebert, dean of girls. The duties of this group extend into all school activities and problems which arise during the year, as well as the general administrative responsibilities.

Numerous problems, both administrative and student, cross the desks of this trio every hour of the day. Keeping a family of nearly 1200 individuals happy and busy and yet learning is a full time job. These three administrators try to attend all school functions in addition to their daily responsibilities.

Edward H. Cuddy is the newest member of Warren's administrative staff. Mr. Cuddy, formerly vice-principal of Bloomington High School, became Warren's principal only this year. He is Warren Central's third principal.

Mrs. Maude Siebert has served on Warren's administration for the last four years. Mrs. Siebert not only acts as dean of girls, but is in charge of Warren's cafeteria.

Among his many other responsibilities Obert Piety, Warren's dean of boys, is in charge of all class scheduling. Mr. Piety has been at Warren for three years.

English Stresses Readin', Writin', Speakin' Skills

Warren's English Department boasts the largest enrollment 1,077 students of any of the various departments included in the school's curriculm.

For students who have difficulty with their English, reading and remedial English were offered. These special courses extended a helping hand to 113 students. Journalism I developed intelligent newspaper readers and taught students the purpose and appreciation of writing with exactness. OWL and WIGWAM staffs offered practical application of journalistic skills.

A general speech course provides the fundamentals of public speaking.

Debates, after dinner speeches, radio announcing and introduction speeches are all given a try in the speech class at Warren. These students seem to be enjoying a debate.

Social Studies Prepare John Q. 'Citizen' For Life

Teaching 715 students the how's, when's, where's, why's and who's of the old and new worlds is the main objective of the Social Science Department. Included in this department are classes in freshman guidance, United States history and government, which are all required for every student. Besides the required courses are elective classes in family living and world history.

To help keep history and government students informed about world affairs, these classes subscribe to three daily newspapers. Government students also receive Our Times, weekly current events magazine.

By learning more about themselves through the extensive testing programs in guidance, freshmen are better able to plan their remaining three years of high school work.

Family living prepares Warren seniors to cope with the problems they will have to face in their future home lives.

Robert Carey's U. S. History class is illustrating the fact that maps, books, and newspapers are necessary articles in keeping up with historical events that have taken place in the past, and in the present.

Mathematicians Struggle

Just when it seemed impossible to master those corollaries, theorems, postulates, logarithms, formulas, and axioms, some kind person gave a helping hand, and a solution to a particularly perplexing mathematics problem was found. A teacher in the Mathematics Department was no doubt that kind person who cleared up the mystery of the puzzling problem.

The study of mathematics not only prepares students for future vocations and for college, but it also requires that the students employ the use of good reasoning power. At Warren, each student is required to take at least one math course.

Seven hundred and ninety-six students were enrolled in the algebra, plane geometry, advanced algebra, college algebra, solid geometry, and trigonometry courses which were offered at Warren Central this year.

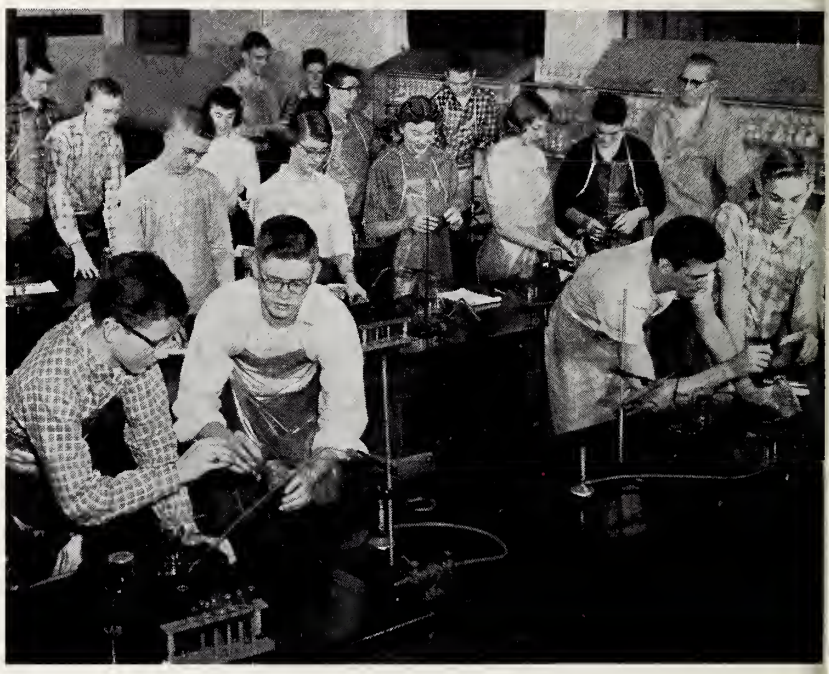
"Oh, that is how that problem is worked." No doubt many a plane geometry student has made such a statement. Just how to make those theorems work correctly with the right problem is the whole mystery, but Edwin Cooper, instructor, makes it look so easy.

Would-Be-Scientists Investigate the Unknown

Who can forget the pungent odor of rotten eggs which drifted up and out of the science department and the acid-eaten holes in our clothing.

During 1957-58, 640 students were enrolled in practical science, biology, chemistry and physics. In one year the science department spent $425.34 on test tubes, skeletons, chemicals and other scientific equipment.

Because of a sky full of satellites, high school science has made the limelight and has become the most talked about subject in the educational curriculum.



These future scientists are working diligently to complete their experiment of the electrolysis of water. From this department of science, 85 to 90 per cent of the students will attend college.

Commerce Students Prepare to Join 'Desk Set'

Warren's Commerce Department specializes in a program which not only offers training in office skills, but also gives practical experience as well. Speed and accuracy are the key words of this department, and only through constant drill and practice can these be accomplished.

Bookkeeping students had never before realized how two little words, debit and credit, could be such a pain in the neck. While the typists try to unscramble the alphabet that lies before them in a maze of keys, the shorthand students try to master the peculiar language of loops and lines, which was devised by Mr. Gregg.

With a few words of encouragement and explanation, however, the commerce teachers are able to smooth the perplexed brows of their 354 bewildered students.

fdsaf jkl;j fdsaf jkl;j The words drill and practice have a definite meaning to all typing students. This beginning typing class, under the direction of Mrs. Lola Hanger, is no exception. To some of them it will mean a future position in the business world, and to others it means neater homework. To all of them it certainly means being able to type thirty words a minute on the next timed writing.

These beginning art students are preparing their entries for the Scholastic Art Awards Exhibition, annual high-light for art students. In 1958 Warren won 5 keys and 6 honorable mentions.

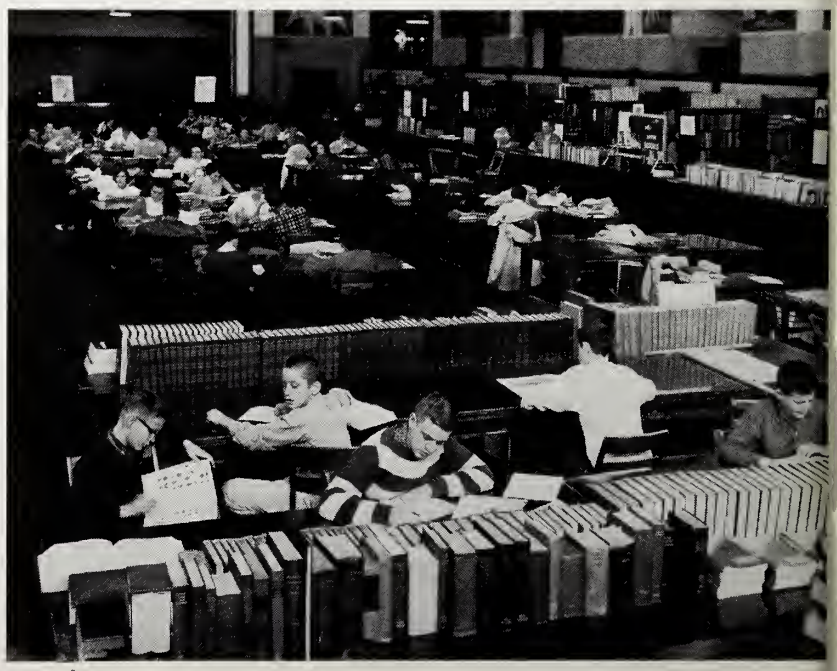
FAUCETT, JULIA
Art; Franklin College, A.B., Indiana University, M.S.

Amid the ever-present odor of wet clay, india inks, turpentine, tempera, and firing kilns, the ceramic students turn out their share of figurines, ash trays, candy dishes, and cuff links. The beginning art classes pursue perspective and the techniques of modern art.

Advanced and commercial students keep busy making decorations for homecomings and dances and drawing dozens of posters for school activities. In spare time these 83 students "just draw."

It's Hard Work— Be it Art Contests, a Catch-All Study Hour

All's quiet on the library front as the sixth period study hall people resign themselves to doing their homework, with only an occasional glance at the clock.



DAVIS, MARY (MRS.)
Librarian, Library Science; Mary Washington, A.B., University of Virginia, M.A.; sponsor of Library Science.

Seven thousand books, from Abbott, Jacob to Zweig, Stefan, plus 18 sets of reference books including encyclopedias, dictionaries and almanacs help make up Warren's library.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Mary Davis, school librarian, 22 people enrolled in library science this year and helped manage the library for the faculty, the 735 students in study hall and the rest of the student body.

FISHER, PERLE
Practical Science; Indiana State, B.S., Indiana University, M.S.; Audio - Visual Aids Director.

Hurrying, scurrying to fill that "last-minute request," setting up microphones for convocations, other special events, and snapping pictures for the publications department is the Visual Aids Department. All of this is a part of the valuable services rendered to Warren Central by this department under the direction of Perle Fisher.

Mr. Fisher and students composing the visual aids department made arrangements for the distribution of films.

A bulletin board tacked full of requests for Visual Aids' service keep this department working. While Eddie Brand delivers projection equipment, Director Perle Fisher sends Kenny Tobias on an assignment.

Supplying Video Equipment or Soil Testing

Vonn Hayes is demonstrating to his Vocational Agriculture class the ways of testing soil for lime, phosphorus and potassium. This is just a part of the boys' study of soil.

Musical Groups Respond to Civic Call

Twenty-three girls faithfully work together and hopefully strive for future positions in senior choir and girls concert club. The freshman girls chorus under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Smith and Robert Fleck is just one of the many musical groups at Warren Central. Music is taught in some form to any underclassman who desires the training. Special classes such as the junior madrigal and boys glee club are formed to prepare the students for a musical future.

There are many opportunities at Warren Central for a student to further his music career. To start a typical school day off musically, Cecil Havens, band director, gives much attention to each person who wishes to participate in the many activities of the band. One of the newest of these activities was their presence at the Indiana State Fair Band Day. The majorette team, also sponsored by Mr. Havens, works closely with the band.

The vocal department plays a very important role in the convocations and other musical events at school. The largest of these groups is the senior choir under the direction of Robert Fleck. Chosen from the choir are two ensembles, the madrigal, directed by Mr. Fleck, and the girls' ensemble, directed by Mrs. Virginia Smith.

George Amends joined the Music Department the second semester to reorganize the orchestra.

These musical groups, composed of 222 members, are in great demand for school and community programs.

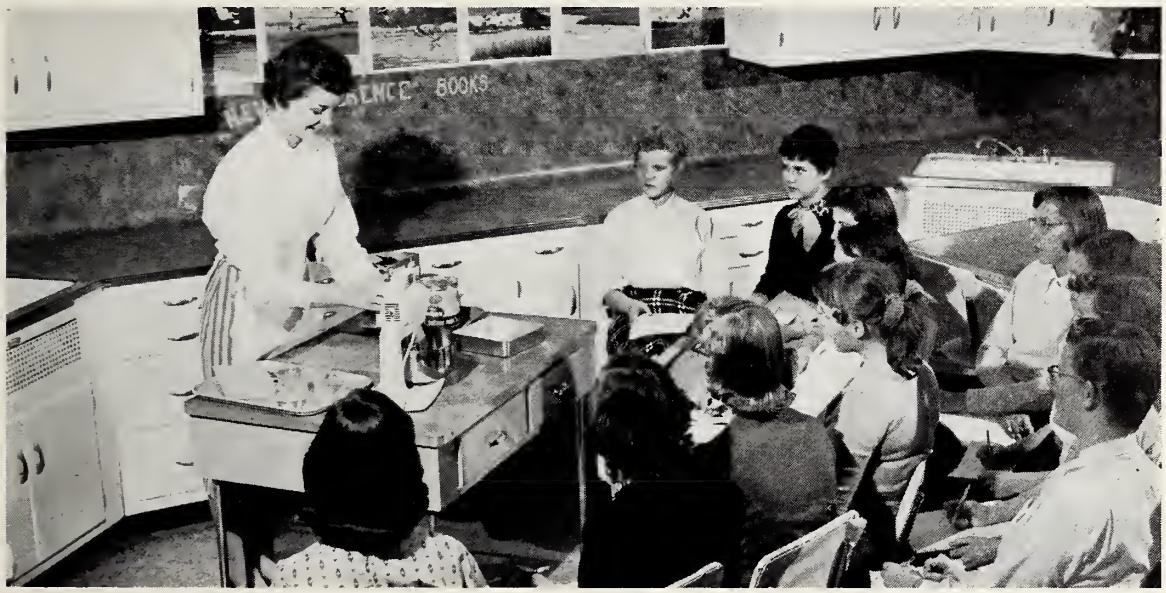
Modern Girls Learn Homemaking Arts



Barbara Wilson is demonstrating to this Home Economics class how to make an angel food cake. This may prove the old saying that "the way to a man's heart is through his stomach." One of the highlights during a semester is when the girls prepare their first full course meal. This will prove an excellent foundation for future homes.

She's sewing a fine seam. Barbara Scroggs may either have her zipper in wrong or she may be putting in a seam for the tenth time.

Sub-divided into three different courses, foods, sewing and child care, the Home Economics Department this year provided practical training for 390 future homemakers.

While foods classes learn how to balance diets and budgets, the child care students are kept busy learning and practicing various phases of home nursing and care of children. In beginning sewing classes, students toil to cut patterns and sew seams correctly. The advanced sewing class makes such items as suits, dresses, formals and sports wear. The home arts students learn homemaking handicrafts such as knitting and crocheting.

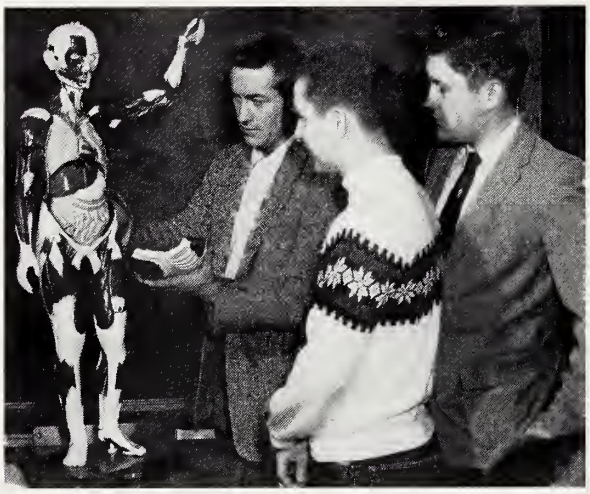
Classes Stress Value of Sound Body-Mind



This model being shown to a safety and health class by Wendell Roberts is one of the many teaching aids available for use by students in the Health Department.

Every sophomore boy is required to include in his schedule safety and health. Wendell Roberts, safety and health instructor, directs the sophomore boys in this course. First aid is included in this course, and is necessary for graduation. Two credits are awarded students successfully completing the full year of safety and health.

Health, which is integrated with Physical Education, is required for the freshman girls. This course is under the direction of Miss Sarah Shute and one-half credit is awarded to each girl concluding this course.

The Health and Safety Department boasts an enrollment of 335 students.

Physical Education plays an important part in every freshman's life. This course not only develops the physical being, but also develops many skills, abilities, and desirable health habits. Physical Education helps the individual attain the responsibilities of leadership, develops fellowship, and a pleasing personality.

The Physical Education Department boasts an enrollment of 327 students and is, for the girls, a one-half credit course integrated with Health. The boys, on the other hand, take Physical Education for one whole year and receive one full credit.

One, two, three, four; one, two, three, four; from sit-ups to deep knee bends, physical education classes exercise daily to keep physically fit.

Shop Teaches Boys Industrial 'Know-How'

Many, many courses are offered at Warren but perhaps the various industrial arts courses are among the most interesting for Warren boys. In the several shops the boys may extricate their talents into whatever phase they are best suited. Each of the courses offered, if taken for two semesters and passed satisfactorily, will add two credits toward a boy's graduation.

For ninth grade boys general shop is given, in which a preview of the industrial arts courses is sometimes often very helpful to those who do not know in which shop phase their talent lies. Drafting I and II may be taken by boys of the tenth grade, and machine shop, wood shop and printing may be taken by sophomores, juniors, or seniors. Mechanical drafting may also be taken by juniors and seniors, but architectural drafting is made available only to seniors.

This year 460 boys participated in practical application in different phases of shop work. Many of the boys undoubtedly have opened the door to their career and many also have probably discovered that their talent does not lie in this field.

The old adage, "Latin is a dead language', doesn't seem to hold true at Warren. The enrollment in Latin is the largest of the foreign languages. Latin not only gives the pupil a knowledge of a foreign language, but helps him with English.

Linguists Study Verbs Plus Country Customs

If you are a student of a foreign language, you probably never have your translation done and are always studying vocabulary words.

There are approximately 215 students enrolled in the foreign language department. The largest department is Latin with an enrollment of 146. The Latin Department has three main events during the year. New Latin students are initiated by taking the "Trip through Hades." Later in the year, students may volunteer their services and be sold in the "Slave Sale." Everyone enjoys the "Floralia" season which brings beautiful spring flowers and delicious candy.

On Pan American Day, the Spanish classes present an annual program. This year the Spanish students took a trip to Chicago for a week-end.

The French classes seem to be steadily growing. Now in their second year, they have an enrollment of thirteen. This year the French students had two men from France visit their class. The Frenchmen compared the American way of living with their own.

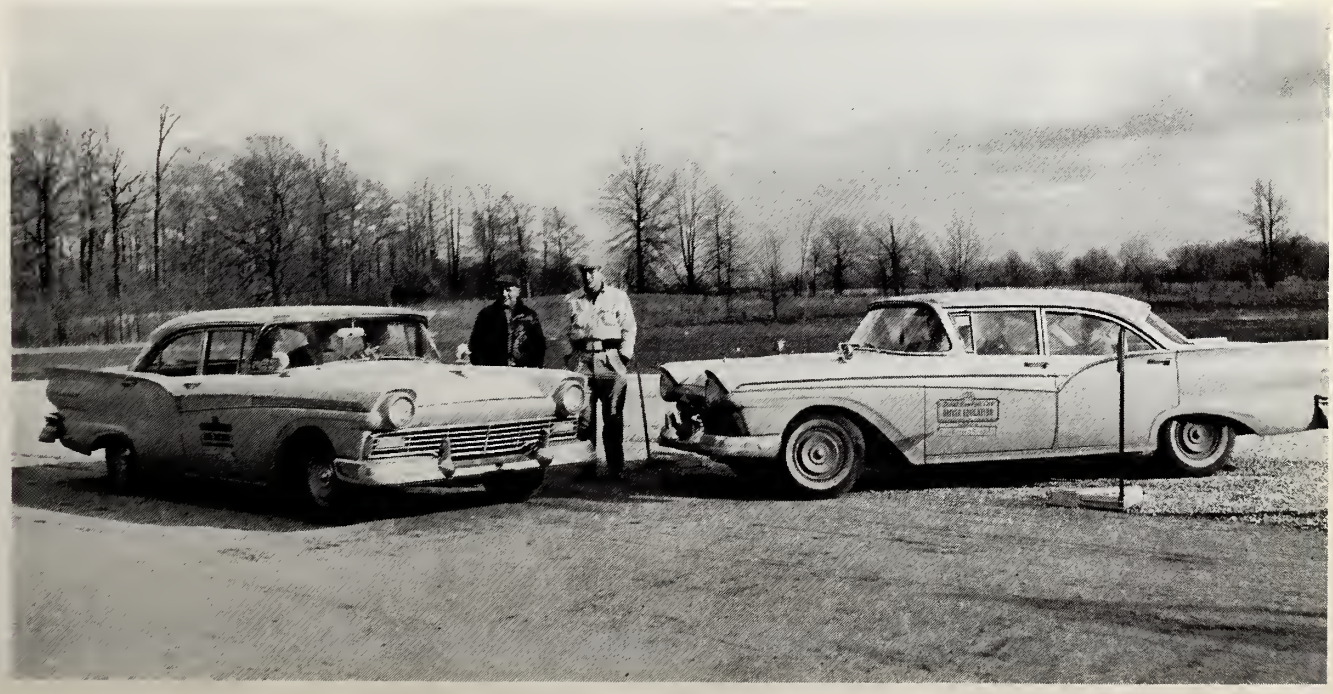
Although the course does not guarantee that you will never have crinkled fenders, the Drivers' Training class is instrumental in preventing such happenings. Driving in city and highway traffic, weaving in and out between a row of stanchions, practicing right and left-hand turns, and parallel parking are some of the skills of handling an automobile that are taught in this one-semester course.

Not only do students taking Drivers' Education learn the skills of handling an automobile, but they also learn the Indiana State traffic laws, the parts of the automobile and their operation, and how to give the automobile a good "bath."

Two hundred and eighty-eight students were eligible and interested in taking Drivers' Training this year, therefore it was necessary to have two teachers and two automobiles.

Drivers Learn Highway Laws, Courtesies

"Look Ma, no banged up fenders!" The Drivers' Education Department proudly displays its two new Fords, used to instruct eligible students. Another class is about to begin, and the students are raring to go. All that is necessary is for Herman Nolte and Alan Miedema to climb into their "classrooms on wheels."



For ten years, Mrs. Mary Jane Deer has been Warren Central's school secretary. Until January of 1958 she has had only student help to assist her in the main office. Without her help, Warren would be at a loss.

This year the Main Office staff, consisting of fifteen girls, one boy, Mrs. Theodora Pfister and Mrs. Mary Jane Deer, filed 2,210 schedule cards, enrollment cards and excuses. They delivered messages and notices, ran off about 2,400 sheets of paper each day on the ditto machine, stored supplies, sold tickets to the games, sorted the mail, recorded the grades on permanent records and gave out general information. There are files of permanent records dating back to 1924. On the average, 150 telephone calls come in each day. Without this central office and the help of those who work in it, Warren would literally fall apart.

The Warren Central cafeteria serves on the average of 400 pounds of potatoes, 36 gallons of green beans, 50 heads of cabbage, 12-15 gallons of fruit, 40-45 pies, 1,000 individual sandwiches, 10 dozen doughnuts, 16 dozen twinkies and cup cakes and 69 gallons of milk per day. Our average grocery bill is from $1,700-$2,000 per week.

Seeing that our more than 45 rooms in Warren Central are kept neat and clean is just one of the many responsibilities of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brim, school custodians. Helping them with their duties is Mrs. Thelma Mackey.

Activities . . .

These are the 34 organizations of 1958 that offered extra-curricular activities to our 1,108 students. They had a combined membership of over 2,636 Warrenites who were governed by the 126 officers which their members elected. The combined dues collected by these groups totaled $1,176.20.

From service projects to social functions, their activities were hard work, but fun. Separately, they sponsored nine sock-hops, two semi-formal dances, two proms and four informal parties. Together, their members worked to build a better Warren Central.

Service Clubs Prepare Future Citizens

National Beta Club officers for 1958 are, Seated: Nancy Reinhardt, sgt.-at-arms; Barbara Wilson, sec.; Jayne Fox, pres.; Judy Halcomb, vice-pres., and Joyce Nolte, program chairman. Standing: Lana Colvin, sgt.-at-arms; Patt Yotter, sgt.-at-arms; Barbara Reel, reporter; Sandy Pollock, sgt.-at-arms; Sonnie Silvers, chaplain and Anita Willman, treas.

Members of Warren's National Beta Club, one of the 2,379 chapters in the United States, had a busy year planning for several social events, such as the Christmas Dance and the Mother and Daughter Valentine Tea. Mrs. Louise Riser is the sponsor of this organization for junior and senior girls.

Alpha Hi-Y is a state club which has as its aims to create, maintain and extend throughout the home, school and community high standards of Christian character. Leadership, scholarship, citizenship, service and character are the five precepts upon which membership to the National Junior Honor Society is based. The Junior Honor Society is not an organization of probationary membership for the National Honor Society, but an independent organization for freshmen and sophomores who have excelled in the five cardinal qualifications. New members are inducted each spring and shortly afterwards the Society sponsors its annual picnic.

Candidates are nominated by a faculty committee of seven and rated numerically by the entire faculty. The highest seven and one-half per cent of the senior class and the highest eleven per cent of the junior class are thus elected. Previously, the activities of this organization have been passive. Sports . . .

This is Warren's sports' world of 1958.

Here are the teams and some of the action that drew crowds of 10,500 for five home football games and 13,300 for nine home basketball games. Track, golf and baseball highlights of '58 have their place here, too, and intra-mural basketball, the Girls' Athletic Association and the cheerleaders are also part of the sports picture. Newest in our sports' world is the wrestling team, the first one ever organized at Warren; another first for 1958.

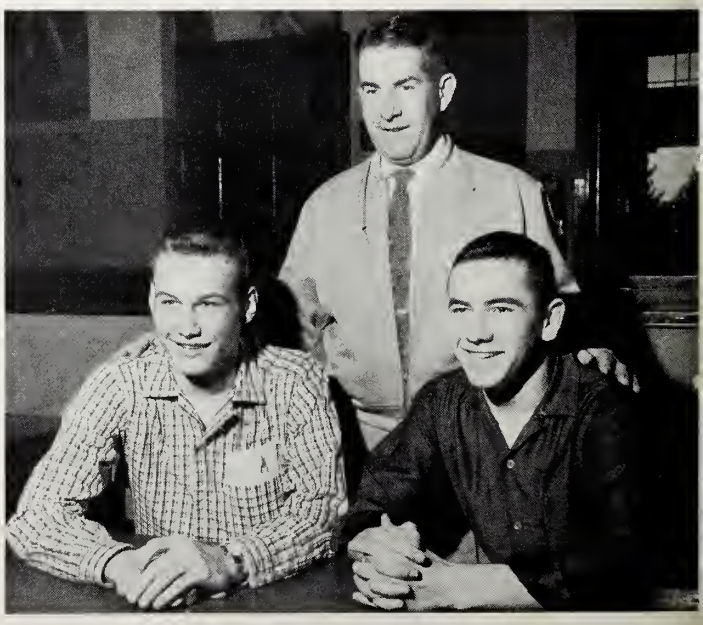
Tieing the rival Lawrence Central Bears was the high spot during the Warren gridiron season because the 7-7 tie offset Lawrence's undisputed claim for the County Football Championship.

Mentored by Vaughn Wood, the Warriors lost eight and tied one with Bob Leech topping the Warren scoring with three touchdowns and an extra point.

Estel Reed was voted honorary captain for the Warren "Eleven" and Warren Hollenbeck was selected the "Most Valuable Lineman" by their teammates at the Football Banquet for the 1957 season. Jim Burris, guard, and Leech, a tackle, received honor by being selected to represent Warren on the Marion County Football team. Larry Huffman and Reed, seniors, provided most of the yardage from the Warren backfield. Joe Neligh, senior, and Reed tallied twelve and seven points respectively for the squad.



Coach Vaughn Wood offers his congratulations to the two top gridders of the '57-'58 squad. Warren Hollenback was chosen most valuable player, and Estel Reed was chosen as captain of the squad.

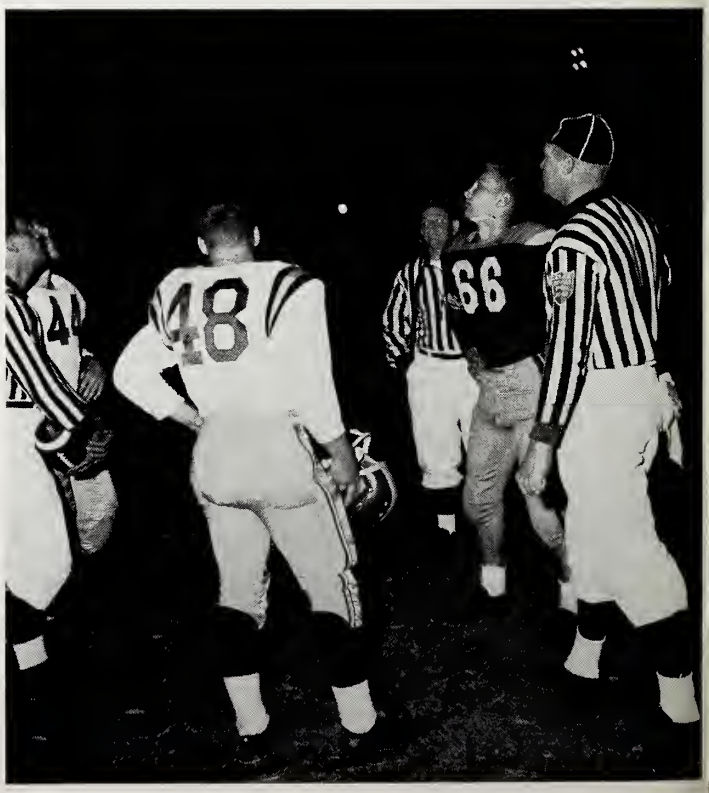
Halfback Jim Spangler swings out in front of Scecina backs for that long race to the uprights, across one of the muddier fields on which the Warriors played their gridiron contests.



A mere toss of the coin will decide the fate of the first play. It is the best method of deciding who is to kick off and who is to receive. Here, Warrior captain Warren Hollenbeck tosses with a Scecina player, as refs supervise.

Season to Boost Grid Victories, Crown a Queen

Warren's Charlie Collins (59) throws a cross-body block into a trespassing opponent in one of the plays that sent both boys reeling into the sidelines close to the sideline spectators.

A full season of both playing and practicing was in store for the freshman and reserve football boys this year. Under the direction of Freshman Coach Wendell Roberts, the Frosh gained much experience through many hard knocks on the gridiron. Though they didn't win many games, the sportsmanship and attitude gained by a year's experience will help them in years to come.

Reserves, under the direction of Coach Ronald Roach, had a season of seven games, out of which they derived the experience, stamina, and endurance which will qualify them for next year's Varsity. And when fall and football roll around next year, the experience gained by working with each other will prove invaluable to the Warren Varsity.

The royal beauties shivered and shook as they reigned supreme over the Football Homecoming game. The queen, senior Judy Helm, and her court of lovelies cheered the team on to their 7-7 tie with Lawrence Central. Candidates for queen were, Brenda Miller, soph.; Judy Helm, sr., queen; Nancy Free, sr.; Nancy Christenberry, jr. and Mary Kay Beck, jr.

Warriors Lead County Netmen in Awards

"Basketball," the very mention of the word brought excitement to the air. This year's Varsity, coached by William Reed, with new boys, received more individual awards than any other county school, but as a team, they just couldn't seem to get that right combination.

Bob Chadwell, top Marion County scorer, and Jerry Hartman, recipient of the Best Attitude Award, were named co-captains of the Warriors, and also named to the All-County team. Bob's 434 points, and Jerry's .819 free-throw percentage, which is a startling figure for any high school player, paced the Warriors for their victories over such teams as Decatur, Beech Grove, Zionsville, Howe and Franklin.

Denny, Dick Dawson, Jerry Yokum, Ed Meredith and Tom Jackson.

Teammates Jerry Hartman and Bob Chadwell were named to the All-County basketball team. Bob Chadwell, top city-county scorer, and Coach William Reed look at the Mental Attitude trophy that was awarded to Jerry Hartman at the County Tourney.

Such common terms as "Hoosier Hysteria," "Net Blistering," and "Hot Hoopsters" floated around Indiana and Warren this winter. The Frosh and Reserve hoopsters, in preparation for the long-awaited Varsity, played hard, but practiced even harder, under the direction of Reserve Coach Wendell Roberts and Freshman Coach Alan Miedema.

Experience being the proverbially best teacher, the determination of the boys pulled the Reserves through for an eleven-win, nine-loss season, paced by Juniors Ronnie Eads, with a 135-point total, Eddie Powel, a 121, and Mike Coffman, a 116.

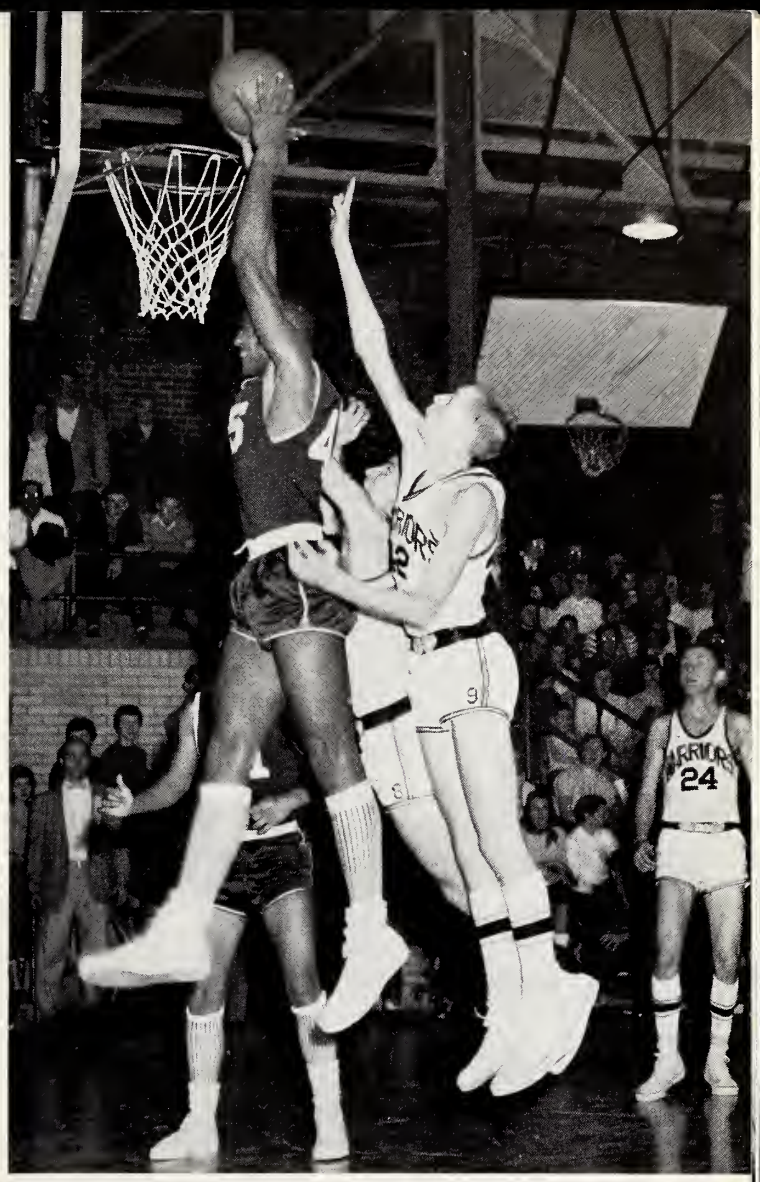
Next year's Reserves, the Freshmen, received a lot of experience in the fifteen games they played, of which they won three.

Fans Cheered Teams Through Exciting Season

These lovelies reigned over the Basketball Homecoming against Lapel. Though Warren lost 63-59, Jeanette Miller, soph., and her court, cheered their team on to victory. Selected as candidates for queen were, Diane Dicks, jr.; Jeannie Horton, jr.; Jeanette Miller, soph, queen; Janet Moore, jr., and Brenda Miller, soph.

"Team's in a huddle"—probably deciding who is to start, while other players give encouragement. By the looks on their faces, Coach Reed must be outlining some foolproof strategy to use against the opponents.

Crowned Another Queen



". . . and he goes up, and up, and up!" Alan Murray (partly hidden) and Bill Jacobs (42) try to block a dunk-point, while Jerry Hartman (24) looks on. What can you do with a guy who seems to be nine feet tall?

Bob Chadwell (30) and Alan Murray (40) try again to block that long, long arm. Larry Piety (20) watches in astonishment, as Scecina's 45 dunks another one with the jump that made him famous.

Diamond 'Nine' Battles Spring Elements

"And the batter swiiiiings!" Don Prickett takes a cut at one while catcher Frank Murphy waits to see whether it's a hit or a miss. Many times, it depends as much on the catcher as the batter, whether points are scored or outs are made.

Under the coaching of Wendell Roberts, Warrior Diamondbacks walloped their way through the spring rains, the March winds, mud and the heat of early summer. Returning lettermen Larry Spaulding and Jerry Hartman, backed by Jim Spangler and Tom Ballard, were the top hurlers for the 1958 season.

Although the stick-swingers had no opportunity to play at Warren, due to the lack of room, they managed to practice here and line up all their games at the opponents' parks.

Thinclads copped their first win of the year from the Scecina Crusaders in a close 56-53 scramble in the third meet of the season. Coaches William Glesing and William Reed helped the boys in the high and low hurdles, 100 and 220 yard dashes, 440 relay, mile relay, shot put, pole vault, broad jump and high jump events in which the Warriors participated this year. Bo Hatcher broke the W. L. Mowrey Field record this year in the pole vault event, although his usual pursuit is is broad jumping.

Cindermen Work Hours To Develop Skills

Organized Intramural Basketball Program Satisfies

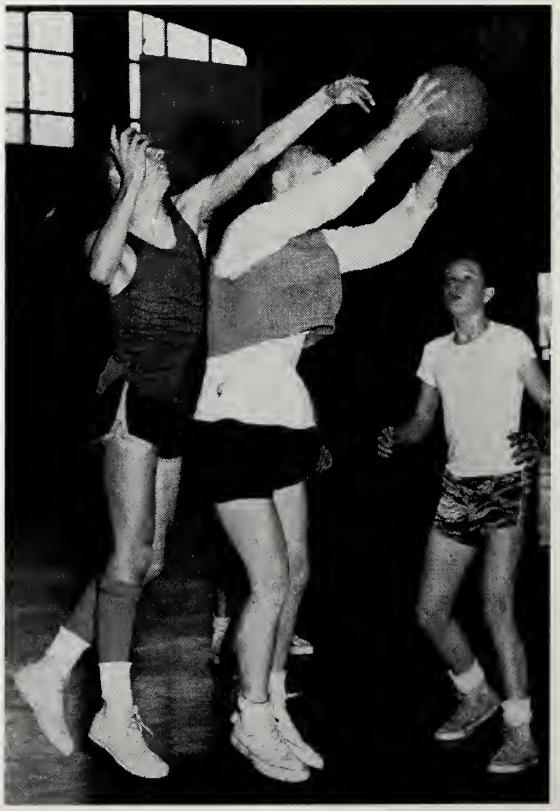
"Just a minute friend, I'll give you a hand!" As Ed Plummer and Dave Dobbins supervise, Dave Sheck has his jump shot hand fed to the rim.

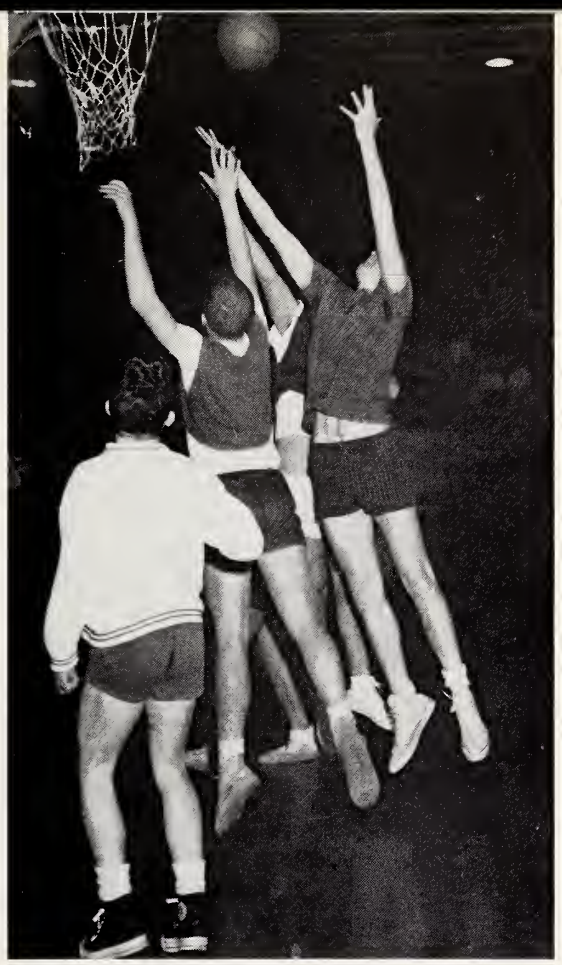


"May I have this dance?" The circular partner pictured above its admirers is certainly in popular demand, as the sophomore contenders make their bid.

Sports-Minded Competitors

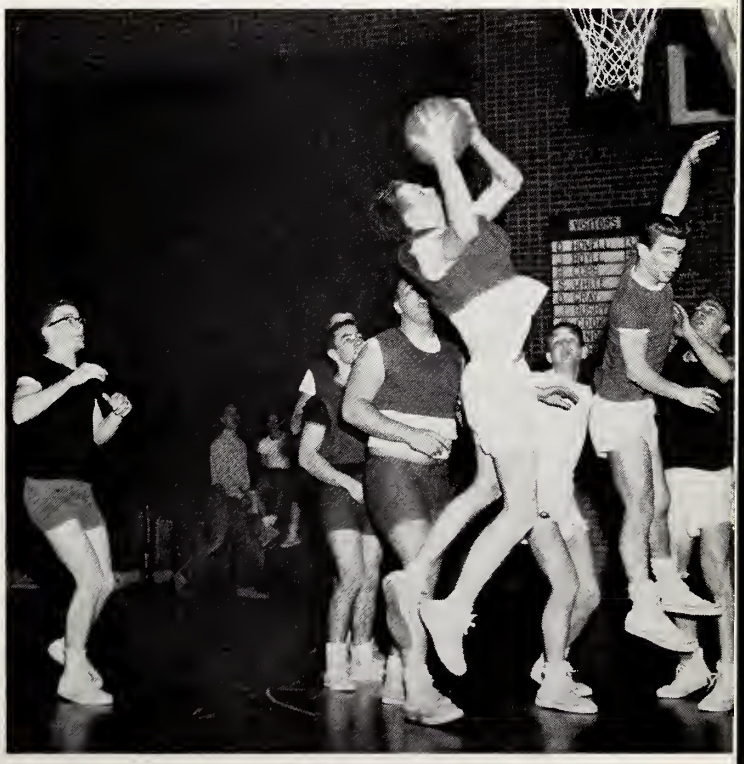
The Warren Central High School Intramural basketball program is the largest organized sporting activity of the school year. This program provided a means of participating in the sport of basketball under supervised officiating and proper playing conditions. It provided an opportunity for all boys lacking in time or talent, or ability to become efficient or interested in the sport.

This year's program was sponsored by Ronald Roach and William Glesing. The games were held each Monday night for approximately three months. The games were divided into leagues, all sophomore and freshman teams in one league, and upper classmen in another. At the termination of the season, playoffs were held to determine a champion team from the respective leagues. The Gladiators were victorious in the junior league, and the Wolverines were tops in the senior league.



As if suspended in air, these intra-mural contestants seemingly float for the ball.

Although a four armed player would be beneficial to any club, this asset was not available even to the varsity, as this gentleman is gentlemen?



"Just a minute, I'll give you a boost." As Merle Wimpsett soars skyward and Jim Spangler descends, Merle's upprogress is seemingly aided by team member, Bob Leech.

Cross Country Organizes First Freshman Team

Warren's cross country cindermen began official practice for the "57" season about three days after school was opened, although some of the boys had begun an early start in August.

The practices usually consisted of sprints, quarter-mile and half-mile runs. This year meets were scheduled with North Central, Scecina, Howe, Southport, Lawrence, Washington and Manual. The boys participated in an all-County meet held at Lawrence and the city and county sectional at the Southgrove Golf Course.

The course which the boys run is two miles in length and takes them through trees and over hills.

This year's fastest runner was a junior, Bob Duchemin, and cross country captain was Fred Roesener, senior. The season for these runners ended the last of October.

ON your mark! get set! Waiting anxiously for a mad dash are the five boys of the freshman team: Dave Clark, Don Grossman, Ted Crouch, Philip Marshall and Joe Stratman.

This year's Cross Country runners were the first to gain acclaim for Warren. Linksmen ran the two mile course in three meets, not to mention the many, many practices. Runners are, Charlie Doyle, Robert Du Chimen, Wayne Brunes, Dean Jung, Stanley Krasienko, Fred Roesener, captain; Dave Lawrence, Richard Snodgrass, and not pictured, Eddie Powell. Kneeling is Coach William Glesing.

Warren Gray, individual medalist winner, works on his swingin' form on the school lawn. The team practiced every afternoon on nearby golf courses.

Golfers Work Hard to Develop Link Form

One sport offered at Warren which can be carried into a fun hobby is golf. John Demaree watches as coach, Joseph Mueller, and Danny Simmerman demonstrate the proper way to hold the club. Warren Gray and John Gronauer attempt the same.

"Safe at third." Umpire-coach Wendell Roberts calls Jim Spangler "safe" during a fast peg to third baseman Warren Hollenbeck. Baseball players practiced at Warren, but due to lack of room, played home games at the nearby public parks.

Diamondbacks, Thinclads Thrill Spectators

In the Broad Jump Event, Warren's Bo Hatcher, who broke the W. L. Mowrey Field record for pole vaulting, takes a running leap at a long, long sand pit. From approximately a 100-foot running start, jumpers leap to 18, 20, and longer for record springs.

In one of the more dangerous field events of track, Kenny Tobias, Warren senior, leaps over a 10-foot barrier, using a pole, a running start, muscles and a prayer.

With a firm grip on his opponent, the average wrestler can render his opponent powerless in a matter of seconds. To do this, however, speed and a knowledge of holds, as these two grapplers illustrate, is essential.

Seasoned Grapplers Gain Experience, Coordination

Gaining a point for a take-down is one Warren grappler against another in a practice meet. For every meet there is an average of two to three weeks of practice to keep the wrestlers in shape.

Through their energy and ability these five varsity cheerleaders have given an immeasureable service to the school and athletic department. They are Marcia Miers, senior captain; Jeanette Miller, sophomore; Larry Parish, Judy Jorgenson and Dianne Dicks, juniors. Braving the cold during the football season, and the heat of the gym during the basketball season, the cheerleaders are highly respected among the players and crowd.

Cheerleaders Encourage School Spirit

"Chalk up another one" and "see that basket, see that rim" are just two of the familiar sounds of the cheerleaders. Both the reserve and varsity squads try at all times to keep the crowds under control and promote good sportsmanship. Leading the pep block and other spectators in yells, the cheerleaders give great encouragement to the team.

Making new outfits and hard practice are also a part of a cheerleader's life. The reserve cheerleaders make their special Indian outfits for the Sectional and County Tourney. During the summer and regular sports seasons, both squads practice for long hours. This year the cheerleaders were led by their captain, Marcia Miers, and sponsored by Mrs. Cherry Sparks.

Sara Carter, Jeanie Horton and Mary Beck, three petite juniors, faithfully spur their team to victory as reserve cheerleaders.

Janet McWhinney, Sandy Stites and Mary Kay Adams display the trophys that they won for G.A.A. bowling at Brodey's bowling alley. Mary Kay won first, while Sandy and Janet were second and third, respectively.

Sharon Uppfault, Cathy Long and Sylvia Robb seem to be enjoying the swimming activities of the Girls' Athletic Association. The 1958 club members who participated swam at the Indiana University Medical Center.

G.A.A. Stimulates Female Participation in Sports

Participation in sports is not limited only to boys at Warren. All girls from freshmen to seniors have the opportunity of stimulating their sport interest and athletic ability through membership in the Girls' Athletic Association.

A varied program including archery, softball, volleyball, basketball, swimming and bowling is open to those who participate in the G. A. A. Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Rosalind White, the 1958 club attended play-days at Broad Ripple High School and Butler University. Some of the members also played basketball with the teams from Beech Grove, Lawrence and Washington high schools.

Sponsor Rosalind White is showing the state G.A.A. Plaque Award to sport managers Claudia Katzenberger, softball mgr.; Joyce Maeda, archery mgr.; Ann Folkening, swimming mgr.; and Patsy Steinbrook, volleyball mgr.

People...

This is the core of Warren's 1958, the hub around which all else revolves, the reason for Warren's being.

For these people, the students of our year, the rest of our school world exists; for their education, the faculty and the classes; for their enjoyment, the clubs and for their friendships, each other. Each has his place in another's life, as a classmate, an example, a leader, a helper and a friend. No one can be omitted from our year without altering it, for each had his part in our 1958.

170 upperclassmen eagerly await graduation . . .

as school days close with religious vesper services.

Under the supervision of Morris Campbell, '58 class sponsor, the senior class sponsored many fund-raising projects to bolster their treasury. Selling shakers at the county tourney, sponsoring a disc jockey dance, selling taffy and fruit cakes were among the activities that raised money for the prom at the Medical Center and the after-graduation dance at the Riveria.

Through the government classes the seniors ordered their cards and invitations for graduation and were measured for their caps and gowns. The Senior Council worked diligently with the faculty to make '58 the best year possible.

Morris Campbell, senior class sponsor, is measuring Jim Meunier for his graduation cap. This year's seniors decided on caps and gowns of white dacron for the girls and blue cotton for the boys.

Although they brought a profit of only $13, the shakers provided a good excuse for shaker parties. Verajean Steinbrook, Gloria Cecrle, Kenny Tobias, Bonnie Strom, F. D. Miller and Kay Alexander gather around the shaker box.
